

January 15, 1919.

Memorandum to Mr. Christoffers:

The Bureau has not been able to get in touch with the Kenai Packing Co. which operated a cannery at Drier Bay, Alaska, although blanks for a report have twice been sent to it at Latouche, Alaska, that being the only address of the company known to the Bureau. Possibly the company now has an office in Seattle, with which you may be able to communicate and advise it that a report on the operations at Drier Bay is long overdue. Supply the usual blanks if necessary.

The Alaska Sea Food Co., operating a salmon cannery near Cordova, Alaska, has not reported. If the company has a Seattle office, ascertain why a report has not been made, and inform it that early attention to the preparation of one is desired.

Also notify the Carlisle Packing Co. that it is delinquent in not having reported on its operations at Cordova, Sawmill Bay, and Andreafski, Alaska, and request it to submit the required reports at the earliest possible date.

All companies which had not requested an extension of time in which to prepare reports were communicated with by letter two days ago, but you may be able to assist in securing prompt action by the use of the telephone. Such as have offices in Seattle and have not reported are shown in the attached list.
